

HUMAN SCIENCES GLOBAL POLICY SEMINAR SERIES

Environmental conflict and its resolution

Thursday 27th October, 5.00pm

St John's College, Garden Quad Auditorium

"Ethnic violence, water scarcity and managing resources to promote peace"

Karen Witsenburg,
Both ENDS and Max Plank Institute for Anthropology

"Climate change and conflict in Sudan: what if development is not the answer to save Darfur?"

Harry Verhoeven,
Politics & IR, Oxford

"The Ecology of Conflict: Humanwildlife conflict on the Hwange
National Park Boundary,
Zimbabwe"

Andrew Loveridge,
Wildlife conservation Research Unit, Zoology

A joint event hosted by the African Studies Centre, OXPEACE & Institute of Human Sciences

The seminar is free to all and will be followed by a wine reception.

Micheltmas Term, 2011 Environmental conflict and its resolution

A panel of experts discuss topics around conflict arising from and with our environment

Hilary Term, 2012

Communicating sustainability

We explore how sustainability issues should be communicated by organisations and whether consumers need them to at all?

SUPPORTED BY

www.brite-green.co.uk